PARSHA OUTLINE BY CANTOR VOGEL

PINCHAS

1. G-d rewards Pinchas for his actions - he becomes a Kohen, and the High Priesthood is given to his descendants.
2. The Israelites are commanded to avenge the conspiracy of the Midianites.
3. A census of the people counts 601,730 men between the ages of twenty and sixty. These are army eligible men who are preparing for the wars of conquest of the land of Canaan.
4. Moshe is instructed on how the land is to be divided by lottery among the tribes and families of Israel.
5. The daughters of Zelafchad petition Moshe to be able to inherit their father's land in Canaan. G-d amends the laws of inheritance to include daughters.
6. Yehoshua is formally appointed as the successor to Moshe.
7. The public korbanot (sacrifices), and the Mussaf korbanot - daily, Shabbat, Rosh Chodesh and the holy days.

HAFTORAH

Today's Haftorah, is the first of the three Haftarat of Tragedy that are read on the three Shabbatot between Shiv'a Asar B'Tammuz and Tisha B'Av. These Haftarat foretell the destruction of the First Temple. Yirmiyahu, the prophet, uses the image of a rod and an open pot to deliver the message for God that punishment is near and the enemy will come from the north. The Haftorah ends with a message of hope: God will remember the way the nation followed Him through the desert for forty years, and any nation that will harm the Jewish people will eventually feel God's retribution.

AIPAC Israel Update

In Deal with Israel, PA Takes 'Historic' Step Toward Energy Independence

High-ranking Palestinian and Israeli officials gathered in a field outside the West Bank city of Jenin on Monday to turn on the first-ever piece of Palestinian-owned electricity infrastructure and ink a new electricity agreement between the two sides. The deal, hailed as "historic" by signatories, will for the first time set parameters for the supply of power between Israel and the Palestinian Authority, which for years has seen the PA default on billions of shekels of debt and Israel subsequently withhold electricity. According to The Times of Israel, after the signing of the agreement, Palestinian Authority Prime Minister Rami Hamdallah, Israel's Minister of National Infrastructure, Energy and Water Resources Yuval Steinitz, Israel Electric Corporation Chairman Yiftah Ron-Tal and Coordinator of Government Activities in the Territories Major General Yoav Mordechai together turned on the Al-Jalameh Substation. The station will allow Israel to send up to 135 more megawatts to the northern West Bank area, though the agreement currently calls for just 60 more. The energy will provide a much-needed boost to the Jenin area, which has suffered power outages more than any other Palestinian West Bank region. The station also represents the first time the Palestinians will be able to control distribution of electricity to their own towns and cities.
